Re: Suppressor/silencer storage.

Date: ____/____/____

This memo is for any customer having a suppressor transferred through us or purchasing a suppressor from The Gun Range. Due to the long wait time for the ATF to process NFA applications we allow customers with suppressors and silencers that are in our facility to use their suppressor while it is in process with some conditions. Customers wishing to take advantage of this policy must understand and agree to the following.

- Suppressors may not at any time leave the facility without the proper tax stamp and 4473 complete. _____
- The Gun Range is not responsible for wear and or damage to your firearm or suppressor, all proper checks should be done as with all shooting activities. _____
- With few exceptions, manufactures or sellers will not take returns on suppressors that have been fired. I understand that The Gun Range will not take returns once a suppressor has been fired or otherwise damaged by the use or misuse of the suppressor. _____
- The Gun Range will not store accessories or gear other than the suppressor and it's original packaging. If the suppressor did not include packaging, The Gun Range will attempt to use alternative packaging to protect the item. _____

List Items below included in shipment but not stored. Customer should initial each item.
